

Thursday, 08 September 2005

Dear Valued-Customer,

Effective October 1, 2005, all laden boxes or containers either arriving or discharging all ocean terminals in India will require bottle or bolt seals. Indian Customs will refuse to load or discharge containers without an affixed bolt or bottle seal. In addition Indian Customs will require the seal number to be documented on the manifest.

In order to assist our customers' responsibility of compliance with this new India instruction, suggested vendors of the ISO/PAS 17712 compliant bottle seal are as follows:

OneSeal Inc.

628 Route 10, #2
Whippany, NJ 07981
(973) 599-1155
oneseal@onesealusa.com
www.one seal.com

American Casting & Manufacturing

51 Commercial Street
Plainview, NY 11803-2401
(800) 343-0333
www.americancasting.com

Stoffel Seals Corporation

P.O. Box 825
Nyack, NY 10960-0825
(800) 344-4772
www.stoffel.com

Elite Seals

374 H St. PMB A533
Chula Vista, CA 91910-7496
(619) 434-8432
sales@eliteseal.com
www.eliteseals.com

CGM Security Solutions, Inc.

223 Churchill Avenue
Somerset, NJ 08873
(732) 448-1400
www.cgmsecuritysolutions.com

Please ensure that all containers destined to the Indian ports have a bolt seal affixed to the container at the shipper's premises and CP Ships Export Customer Service receives the manifest detailing the seal number. We appreciate your assistance in complying with India's bottle seal requirement.

Sincerely,

CP SHIPS